I, RONALD V. THUNEN III, declare:

- I have been employed with Intelius Inc. ("Intelius"), defendant in the above-1. captioned matter, since August 2006. Until February 2009, I was variously employed as a program manager, senior program manager, and lead program manager. Between February 2009 and February 2010, I served as Director of Program Management of Intelius' Consumer Business Unit. Since February 2010, my duties have expanded to include product ownership of Intelius' consumer transactional websites, as a "Product Owner" within the Consumer Business Unit.
- 2. I am making this declaration based on facts within my own personal knowledge and in support of (1) Defendants' Rule 12(c) Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings to Dismiss Plaintiffs' Consolidated Class Action Complaint and (2) Defendants' Request for Judicial Notice. If called upon to do so, I would and could competently testify thereto.

Plaintiff Lee/Cramer - June 2008 Adaptive Offer

- Attached as Exhibit A is a true and correct copy of the Adaptive Marketing LLC 3. "Family Safety Report" enrollment form webpage on the Intelius site displayed to plaintiff Lee/ Cramer in June 2008.
- In the normal course of its business, Intelius maintains records relating to the time 4. period during which Adaptive offers, including the Adaptive enrollment form attached as Exhibit A, were active on Intelius' websites. The Adaptive offer attached as Exhibit A was active in June 2008. Intelius' records of Lee/Cramer's June 2008 transaction, maintained in the normal course of Intelius' business, show that Lee/Cramer were presented with the enrollment form attached as Exhibit A.

Plaintiff Keithly - April 2009 Intelius In-Cart IDP Offer

Attached as Exhibit B are true and correct copies of Intelius Background Check 5. check-out webpages as they were displayed to plaintiff Keithly on April 7, 2009, in connection with his purchase of a background check for $39.95 with a $10.00 discount for enrolling in a trial 2

membership of Identity Protect.

- 6. Attached as Exhibit C are true and correct copies of Intelius Background Check check-out webpages as they existed on April 7, 2009, and would have been displayed to Mr. Keithly, had he elected to purchase the identical background check product for $49.95.
- 7. Exhibits B and C were regenerated from Intelius' back-up tapes and servers on January 11, 2010, at my direction and under my supervision.
- 8. In the normal course of its business, Intelius periodically creates snapshots of its websites as they exist at specific points in time. Those snapshots are taken and preserved on back-up tapes via an automated process. These point-in-time snapshots consist of the software code on which the webpages and webpage flows for a specific date, are based.
- 9. On April 5, 2009, at 5:17 a.m., Intelius archived a true and correct point-in-time snapshot of Intelius' website code.
- 10. The April 5, 2009, code was updated and rolled forward to April 7, 2009, (the date of plaintiff Keithly's transaction), by applying any changes that were made to the component files during the intervening 48 hours. The version history of each component file is archived separately on Intelius' servers. Changes to the files comprising the April 5 website code were made once on April 6 and once on April 7. These changes were applied to the April 5 code to reproduce the website code as it existed on April 7.
- 11. Exhibits B and C are true and correct copies of the webpages that resulted from running plaintiff Keithly's background search request on the regenerated archived code from April 7, 2009.
- 12. Step 1 of Exhibit B is the first webpage that Plaintiff Keithly viewed on an Intelius website, after having been re-directed from a third-party (not Adaptive) website where he input his search criteria. Step 7 is the last step in the purchase process for the Background Report Plaintiff Keithly purchased. Clicking on the red button at the bottom of the page "Confirm the Purchase and Show My Report" confirms the customer's purchase and signals Intelius to send a confirmation email.

- 13. The next webpage presented to Plaintiff Keithly after clicking on the "Confirm the Purchase and Show My Report" button was one of the two interstitial advertisements which Plaintiffs describe as a "post-transaction" offer identified as "Step 8a" and "Step 8b." The Exhibit B webpages identified as "Step 8a" and "Step 8b" are true and correct copies of the two interstitial advertisement offers that were active on April 7, 2009, one of which was displayed during Plaintiff Keithly's transaction after Step 7 and before Step 9. In April 2009, Intelius did not maintain a record, in the normal course of its business, of which interstitial offer was presented to a specific customer unless the customer actually accepted the offer. Because Plaintiff Keithly was not enrolled in any programs offered via the interstitial advertisements, it is apparent that he did not accept the interstitial offer with which he was presented.
- 14. The actual background report resulting from Plaintiff Keithly's search request is not available. Although Intelius' webpages can be rolled back to certain points in time using archived data, the results of any specific search requested via those webpages (e.g., in connection with purchase of a background report) are derived by searching Intelius' current public records database. Accordingly, although it is possible to closely replicate the background report that plaintiff Keithly requested, such a report derived from the current database could differ from one generated from the database as it existed on April 7, 2009.
- 15. Exhibit C consists of the webpages Plaintiff Keithly would have seen had he declined the discounted price for the Background Report with Identity Protect. Steps 1-3 of Exs. B and C are identical. The remaining pages of Ex. C (Steps 4-6) show the webpages that would have resulted had Plaintiff Keithly selected to pay the standard price for the Background Report at Step 3.

Plaintiff Bebbington - November 2009 Intelius In-Cart IDP Offer

- 16. Attached as Exhibit D, E and F are true and correct copies of check-out webpages as they were displayed to plaintiff Bebbington on November 1, 2009, in connection with his purchase of three People Search Reports.
- 17. Exhibits D, E and F were regenerated from Intelius' back-up tapes and servers on August 11, 2010, at my direction and under my supervision.
- 18. On October 21, 2009, Intelius archived a true and correct point-in-time snapshot of Intelius' website code.
- 19. The October 21, 2009, code was updated and rolled forward to November 1, 2009 (the date of Bebbington's transactions), by applying any changes that were made to the component files during the intervening time period.
- 20. Exhibits D, E and F are true and correct copies of the webpages that resulted from running Plaintiff Bebbington's people search requests on the regenerated archived code from November 1, 2009.
- 21. Exhibit D collects the webpages presented to Plaintiff Bebbington during his first transaction, during which he was presented with and accepted an "in-cart" offer for Intelius' Identity Protect program.
- 22. Step 1 of Exhibit D is the first page on Intelius website that Plaintiff Bebbington would have seen after inputting his search criteria for "Dan Savage" in the state of "Washington" on a non-Intelius website operated by Yahoo! Step 7 is the last step in the purchase process for the first People Search Plaintiff Bebbington purchased on November 1, 2009. Clicking on the red button at the bottom of the page "Reconfirm the Purchase and Show My Report" confirms the customer's purchase and signals Intelius to send a confirmation email.
- 23. The next webpage presented to Plaintiff Bebbington after clicking on the "Reconfirm the Purchase and Show My Report" button was one of the four interstitial advertisements identified as "Step 8a," "Step 8b," "Step 8c," and "Step 8d." The Exhibit D webpages identified as "Steps 8a – 8d" are true and correct copies of the four interstitial advertisement offers that were active on November 1, 2009, one of which was displayed during Plaintiff Bebbington's transaction – after Step 7 and before Step 9. In November 2009, Intelius did not maintain a record, in the normal course of its business, of which interstitial offer was presented to a specific customer unless the customer actually accepted the offer. Because Plaintiff Bebbington was not enrolled in any programs offered via the interstitial advertisements, it is apparent that he did not accept the interstitial offer with which he was presented.

- The actual People Search Report resulting from Plaintiff Bebbington's first search request on November 1, 2009, is not available. Although Intelius' webpages can be rolled back to certain points in time using archived data, the results of any specific search requested via those webpages (e.g., in connection with purchase of a background report) are derived by searching Intelius' current public records database. Accordingly, although it is possible to closely replicate the people search report that Plaintiff Bebbington requested, such a report derived from the current database could differ from one generated from the database as it existed on April 7, 2009. Other than any differences resulting from intervening changes in the source database, Plaintiff Bebbington would have been presented with a People Search Report essentially identical to that attached as Ex. D, Step 10.
- 25. Exhibits E and F collect the webpages that Plaintiff Bebbington would have seen during his second (Ex. E) and third (Ex. F) People Search purchase transactions on November 1, 2009. As reflected in Steps 4-6 for both Exs. E and F, Plaintiff Bebbington received a 10% discount on both his second and third People Search purchases as a member of ID Protect.
